I added a comment to the blackline regarding the phrase at the end of the attachment. I did not understand what the "appropriate units" are. The phrase is vague to me, but if WSA says that it is a technical term, then I am fine with it.

Thanks.

I didn't have anything substantive to add; I just got rid of a comma and a period.

I just have one comment which I made to the clean version.

Let me know if either of you have additional comments before I send to Bristow. This is on an

Dear Team:

This is the PA we discussed this afternoon in our meeting as needing an accelerated timeline to have it in place by next Friday. (Work to begin 11/17/03).

The agreement is based off of the last LT sample analysis (PA 13) which was previously approved. The rates are consistent with other PAs for sample analysis of this particular analyte. Please review and let me know if this is approved for release to Covance.
